

TEL AVIV UNIVERSITY
Pursuing the Unknown

The Sverdlin Institute for Latin American History and Culture
The Cummings Center for Russian and East European Studies
The Zvi Yavetz School of Historical Studies

Writing Beyond the Homeland: Intellectual Pilgrimages and Trans/National Identification in Comparative Perspective

A Joint International Workshop

9:30 Gathering

9:45 Greetings and announcement of the 2018 Tzvi Medin Prize winner for an outstanding M.A. student in Latin American history

10:00 – 11:45

Moderator: Iris Rachamimov (Tel Aviv University)

Mark Frost (University of Essex), The Empire Debate: Patriotism and Universalism in Britain's Asian Empire, 1880-1920

Lina Barouch (DLA Marbach/Hebrew University of Jerusalem), Heteroglossia and the Splitting of the Authorial Voice: German-Jewish Literature in British Mandate Palestine

11:45 – 12:15 Coffee Break

12:15 – 14:00

Moderator: Oded Rabinovitch (Tel Aviv University)

Ori Sela (Tel Aviv University), Pan-Asianism, Nationalism, and the Discourse of Civilization: Chinese, Japanese, and Indian Intellectuals in the Early 20th century

Mark Gamsa (Tel Aviv University), Three Foreign Patriots of China, 1900s to 1920s

15:30 – 17:15

Moderator: Gerardo Leibner (Tel Aviv University)

Michael Goebel (Free University of Berlin), Forging a Proto-Third World? Latin Americans and the League against Imperialism

Ori Preuss (Tel Aviv University), "Repertorio Americano": Toward a New Geography of Latin American Intellectual Life, 1820s-1920s

17:15 – 17:45 Coffee Break

17:45 – 18:30

Moderator: Mark Gamsa (Tel Aviv University)

Vera Kaplan (Tel Aviv University), "Russia Abroad" and Its Historians

18:30 – 19:30

Concluding Round Table: Writing Beyond the Homeland

Opening comments: Israel Gershoni (Tel Aviv University)